History...

On January 22, 1982, Our Lady's Inn opened as an emergency residential shelter for pregnant women and their children.

Thousands of expectant mothers have received shelter, support and guidance. Thousands of babies have been given the gift of LIFE and thousands of children have been housed and comforted at Our Lady's Inn.

In 1997, Our Lady's Inn moved to our main location on South Compton at Meramec in south St. Louis City. This facility houses up to 18 women and their children and serves St. Louis City & St. Louis County.

In 2005, Our Lady's Inn opened the Bro. Loyola Transitional Housing Program (THP) four-family unit building. Families from our emergency shelter can stay in these apartments for up to 1 year in a more independent setting with support services provided by our staff.

In 2006, Our Lady's Inn expanded to St. Charles County. This additional location serves St. Charles communities and houses up to 18 women and their children in need of maternity home/ transitional housing and supportive services.
